10 Read this magazine article. Are the statements true (T) or false (F)?

Last month we asked our readers to write and tell us about a special relationship in their lives. Thank you to everyone who wrote in; we enjoyed reading all your stories. Over the next few weeks, we'll be publishing some of your entries.

A friend for life

My friends have always been incredibly important to me as I'm an only child but one friend in particular, Clare, has always been special to me. We've known each other for almost twenty years and we met when we were both teaching at the same school. As soon as she introduced herself I knew that we would be friends. It was clear that we were very much on the same wavelength and had a lot in common - we're both very keen on sports amongst other things and after a couple of months we decided to share a flat together.

What is it that makes her such a good friend? Well, she's totally dependable, funny, tolerant, generous, kind-hearted and almost always upbeat. I can honestly say that in all the years I've known her we've hardly ever fallen out and if we have an argument, we make up very quickly. I really enjoy her company and we can spend hours together just messing around. We have the same sense of humour and spend a lot of time laughing at the silliest things.

Unfortunately, I had to move away recently because I'd been offered a new teaching job. I was worried that we might lose touch as we're no longer in the same country but we've managed to stay as close as ever. Clare is really good at keeping in touch with her family and friends and thanks to phone and email we're able to speak or write to one another almost every day.

Last year she invited me to Canada during the summer holiday to spend time with her family. It was so good to see where she grew up. Her childhood was so different from mine as she was brought up in the country while I grew up in a big city. She's the oldest of six children and the only one who didn't stay close to home so when she goes home she has a lot of catching up to do.

I can't imagine her not being in my life and I must say that I feel incredibly lucky to have her as a friend.

Avatar (2009)

One of the most successful films of all time, Avatar (directed by James Cameron) tells the story of a reluctant hero who sets off on an epic adventure to save the alien world he has learned to call home. Now available in 3-D and 2-D this visually spectacular film is a must-see for all the family with important messages for both young and old.

The Proposal (2009)

An ambitious and obnoxious boss (played by Sandra Bullock) hears that she will have to return to Canada as her visa has run out. To avoid deportation, she forces her young assistant (Ryan Reynolds) to marry her so that she can stay in the United States legally. After many crazy adventures to prove to his family that they do actually love one another, they finally really fall in love. This is a good old-fashioned feel-good comedy which is the perfect vehicle for both stars.

A Nightmare on Elm Street (2010)

As a fan of horror films, I was looking forward to this remake of the Wes Craven cult classic which first appeared on our screens almost twenty years ago. Terrifying when it first came out, this remake, however, doesn't compare in any way. The special effects are laughable and the acting is wooden. I'd recommend watching the original any day and I certainly hope they don't bother to remake the others.

The Young Victoria (2009)

Nominated for three Academy Awards and winner of Best Costume Design, this is a perfectly crafted period drama. The film stars Emily Blunt as the young Queen Victoria and Rupert Friend as her husband Albert. It tells the story of the first few years of her reign with all the dramas and emotions that a young woman in her position would have to face. The acting by both young stars is excellent and totally believable.

The Notebook (2004)

If you enjoy sickly sweet romantic films that unashamedly tug on the heart strings to make you cry, then this is most definitely the film for you. From the moment the film begins you know where it is taking you. Boy meets girl. Boy is poor and girl is rich. Girl's parents don't approve. Fast forward to years later ... Have your box of tissues to hand!

The Bourne Ultimatum (2007)

This is the third in the Bourne series starring the excellent Matt Damon. Filmed on location in Tangier, London, Paris, Madrid, Berlin and New York City, the story is fast-paced but to my mind rather confusing. My concentration was disturbed by the hand-held camera effect which meant that the film was constantly 'shaking'. I appreciate that this was supposed to heighten the tension but I found it almost impossible to focus in places.

10 Lisa has just moved into a new flat. Complete the email with the sentences below.

Hi Ben

How are you and how are the children? (0) _____ b _____ I can't believe it's September and I've already been here for a month. I'm sorry it's taken so long to write to you but I had to wait for my computer to be connected to the Internet. (1) _____

I can't remember if you've been to Prague before but I can honestly say that it's one of the most beautiful cities I've ever seen. (2) _____ Although the centre is touristy, there are lots of green spaces so it doesn't feel too crowded and of course there's a river as well so that gives you a sense of space.

I decided to wait until I got here before looking for somewhere to live because I wanted to get an idea of what the different neighbourhoods were like. I think it's hard to make a decision without seeing a place first so I spent a couple of weeks with Jana when I first arrived and was lucky to find a small apartment in a residential area near the city centre. (3) _____ As you know, I really enjoy going out in the evenings so this is ideal because I can walk home most of the time and it's only a couple of stops on the tram or metro.

The flat's on the fourth floor with a great view over an enormous square. At night it's pretty quiet but during the day the square's always bustling with lots of people. There are lots of traditional street cafés and bars so there's a great atmosphere and I often go downstairs to have a coffee and read the paper. (4) _____

I've got two bedrooms as well as a large living room so you must come and stay. (5)

I've already discovered lots of interesting places so there'll be plenty for you to do.

Write soon and let me know your news.

Luke

I'm a student so I really can't afford to waste money. I have a part-time job during term time and then work full-time during the holidays. Even then it's hard but if you shop around, you really can find some good bargains. I always go shopping at the end of the day when a lot of food is reduced because it has reached its sell-by date. It's amazing how much you can save that way.

Marek

I've just moved to the UK. When I arrived I didn't have any furniture but someone told me about the 'freecycle' scheme and I've managed to get almost everything I need without spending any money. Basically, if you have something you don't want any more, you advertise it on the freecycle website and then anyone who wants it must agree to come and collect it. No-one makes any money so it really is a good exchange.

Akiko

I love shopping but I also enjoy buying things that are good value for money so I always wait until the sales are on. In some shops you can get as much as 70% off if you go at the right time. I probably don't save any money in the end though as I usually buy more things because I'm so pleased to have got a bargain!

Stella

We live way out in the country so I don't often manage to get to the shops and to be honest, I don't really have the time but if I do need something, I check out the price comparison websites and of course eBay. At first I was a little nervous about shopping on-line but now I'm hooked.

Jon

A lot of people these days seem to buy clothes, wear them a couple of times and then give them to charity shops so that's where I do my shopping. You can get some really good stuff and you know that your money is helping other people so it's a win-win situation in my opinion.

Paul

I must admit I don't think too much about how or where I shop but the one thing I try to do is save money on electricity and gas in the house. In the winter when it's really cold, instead of turning up the temperature I put on another sweater and I close the doors. I encourage the children to turn off the lights when they leave the room and we don't leave the TV or computer on standby as that uses up unnecessary energy.

atmosphere location menu prices recommendation service

One of the things I enjoy most about travelling is that I get the chance to visit restaurants all over the world. I have been very fortunate over the years as I have tried all kinds of regional delicacies and specialities.

0 location

Earlier this year my wife and I spent a few days on the Black Sea coast in Bulgaria. One of the highlights of our trip was an evening at a traditional restaurant which had wonderful views over the sea. The restaurant itself was right in the centre of the old part of the town and you could only get to it on foot.

1 _____

As soon as we arrived, we were welcomed by a charming waiter, Georgi, who showed us to a table in the window and immediately offered us a welcome drink. Although the menu was in English as well as Bulgarian, we asked for some recommendations as we didn't recognise any of the dishes. Georgi kindly explained what the specialities of the restaurant were so we took his advice and ordered a good variety.

2 _____

The food was excellent. We had a selection of starters or 'meze' including a yoghurt and cucumber salad, salami, vine leaves stuffed with rice and meat and a dip made of aubergine and mayonnaise, all served with freshly baked bread. We both had grilled fish and salad for the main course and this was followed by 'baklava', a deliciously sweet dessert made of nuts, pastry and syrup.

3 _____

The restaurant filled up quite quickly after we arrived. There was a band playing traditional music for most of the evening. This wasn't to everyone's taste but it was certainly very lively and colourful.

4 _____

When the bill came I was pleasantly surprised. I had expected to pay more considering the popularity of the restaurant and its situation. I suppose you might have to pay more during the summer when there are lots of tourists but it was a very good deal for us.

5 _____

For anyone interested in experiencing the true taste of Bulgaria, I think this would be an ideal place to go. I would, however, suggest eating early if you don't like loud music during your meal.

Sing!

Today a lot of singers and actors use their fame to raise money for charity. You only have to go on the internet and you can see just how many things they do. A celebrity name at a charity event can raise thousands of dollars and it is a good way for these people to give something back to the world that has made them rich and famous.

One such person is Scottish singer songwriter Annie Lennox. She was born on 25 December 1954 into a poor family. She grew up and went to school in Aberdeen and when she was seventeen she moved to London and went to the Royal Academy of Music where she studied the flute and classical music for three years.

A few years later she met Dave Stewart and between 1977 and 1980 they were in a group, The Tourists, where she was the lead singer. When the band split up, Annie and Dave formed a new band: Eurythmics. Together they recorded several albums. They sold more than 75 million albums worldwide, with over twenty international hits. They didn't officially separate but Annie started a solo career in the 1990s. Her first solo album, Diva, was released in 1992 and sold around six million copies. Since then she has recorded several albums.

However, Annie Lennox isn't just a successful singer and musician. She is a dynamic charity fundraiser* and over the years has achieved many great results. In 2007, she recorded a fundraising single called Sing with a 23-member choir of female celebrities including Madonna, Shakira, kd lang, Dido and Celine Dion. The money they raised went to Treatment Action Campaign (TAC), an organisation which works on the African continent.

Multi-award winning Annie Lennox has come a long way since the 1980s when she was the singer with Eurythmics. Since then, she has become a successful solo artist and has raised money for many charities including Amnesty International, Greenpeace and Nelson Mandela's 46664 Foundation. She does a lot of her charity work through the internet, which she calls 'Laptop Activism', and encourages everyone to do something to make a difference.

10 Read this magazine article.

Read the article quickly and tick the best summary (1-3).

- 1 It tells the story of Susan Boyle's life and rise to stardom as a singer.
- 2 It argues that we shouldn't judge people until we get to know them.
- 3 It uses the story of Susan Boyle to show that we often judge people by appearances.

Don't judge a book by its cover

Most people agree with this well-known saying but few follow its advice. For the truth is that, whether we like it or not, our brains are programmed to make immediate judgements based almost solely on first impressions. Scientists argue that this is a survival mechanism which dates from humanity's early history - a time when the world was full of danger and it was necessary for people to make instant life-or-death decisions. The strength of our tendency to judge by appearances has recently been illustrated by the incredible story of Susan Boyle, an unemployed Scottish woman who shot to international stardom after appearing on a TV talent show. Her appearance on the show became one of the most popular videos on YouTube, with more than 200 million viewings. Her debut CD sold more than 9 million copies within six weeks of its release. In fact, Boyle's appearance on Britain's Got Talent was one of the most memorable and surprising moments in recent TV history. Most of the performers on the talent show are young hopefuls. Some have talent but many are simply good-looking youngsters who dream of becoming pop stars but have no musical ability or background. On one particular show, a rather plain, middle-aged woman with an unflattering hairstyle and an old-fashioned dress appeared on stage. If you watch the YouTube clip, you will see what happens next ... The audience looks bemused - what is someone like this doing on a show where most contestants are in their teens or early 20s? In a strong Scottish accent, the woman tells the judges that her name is Susan, she comes from a small village near Glasgow, she's 47, and wants to become a professional singer. The audience prepares itself for an embarrassing display by another self-deluded wannabe. What hope does someone like this have of becoming a star? Then Susan opens her mouth and begins to sing. A gasp of amazement goes up from the audience, for the contrast between her homely appearance and powerful soaring voice is almost overpowering. They begin to clap and scream. Within a few moments, most of the audience are on their feet, giving Susan Boyle a standing ovation. For many viewers, it was the unexpected dichotomy between Boyle's physical appearance and her prodigious talent that was so memorable. But why should it be such a shock that someone like Susan Boyle can have a wonderful and rare talent? The truth is, however sophisticated we believe we are, we still make instant judgements based purely on outward appearances. If someone doesn't look beautiful, we still find it difficult to believe that they can have a beautiful voice. Last month we asked our readers to write and tell us about a special relationship in their lives. Thank you to everyone who wrote in; we enjoyed reading all your stories. Over the next few weeks, we'll be publishing some of your entries.

Asian Shopping

Visitors to London, New York and Los Angeles often remark on how easy it is to buy (1) things at any time of the day. It isn't the well-known department stores, large supermarkets or huge shopping malls that they are talking about but those tiny shops (2) ____ Americans call 'convenience stores' and the British call 'corner shops'. They may not always be situated on corners, but they are certainly convenient for tourists and for those city-dwellers who work long hours and don't have time to shop during the day. As people in large cities work longer and longer hours the availability of late-night shopping has become a necessity rather than a luxury. (3) other thing that sometimes causes surprise is that these shops are rarely owned or staffed by local people. The English-sounding names of 'Super Saver', 'Bargain Supplies' or 'Mini-market' b Replace the underlined words and phrases in the sentences (1-8) with words and phrases from the article. 1 Harrods is a famous department store in London. 2 They've just bought a large house. ____ 3 People who live in the country are sometimes more relaxed than people who live in a city. 4 We hardly ever take holidays. ____ 5 The government is considering changing the law on people moving to this country from another one. ____ 6 My parents own and manage a dry cleaning business. ____ 7 I have never understood the financial basis of international trade. ____ 8 The origin of the River Nile is in Uganda. give no clue to the origin of the people working inside the store. In fact, they often seem to be staffed by (4) people from various parts of Asia. Their nationalities often reflect the history of immigration to the country concerned, and they frequently come from nations with a reputation for successful trade and shop-keeping. In New York and Los Angeles it is often Koreans and Chinese who run these stores and in London it is people from the Indian sub-continent. But what are the economics of such places? How can tiny shops make any profit when employees have to be paid to work (5) such long hours? (6) answer lies partly in the Asian culture of hard work, but is mainly due to the tradition of the extended family. This is very different from the typical Western family in which the individual members have separate lives and careers. When (7) Asian family owns a shop everyone gets involved - brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, cousins, grandparents and children - everybody is expected to work behind the counter. Thus there is (8) guaranteed source of staff available to work from early morning until late at (9) night. And rather than being paid salaries, the members of the family simply share in (10) profits at the end of the year. It is a recipe that has brought wealth to many immigrant families and made life a lot easier for those of us who run out of milk at 11 o'clock on a Sunday evening!

- 1 What does the word guilt in the title refer to?
- 2 Why is the weight of the sculpture significant?
- 3 What happens to 90% of Europe's electronic waste?

Sculpture of Guilt

I love shopping but I also enjoy buying things that are good value for money so I always wait until the sales are on. In some shops you can get as much as 70% off if you go at the right time. I probably don't save any money in the end though as I usually buy more things because I'm so pleased to have got a bargain!

Stella is 'Wee Man', a terrifying metal and plastic sculpture created by Paul Bonomi from discarded computers, electronic components and domestic products. Commissioned by the Royal Society of Arts (RSA), the sculpture stands 24 feet (7 metres) high beside the river Thames in London and serves as a shocking reminder of the huge amount of waste produced by today's extravagant high-tech society. The main body of the figure includes three washing machines, five fridges, seven vacuum cleaners, 35 mobile phones and 12 kettles, plus assorted microwaves, televisions, radiators and sections of ducting and cabling. The artist has ingeniously created the head from a combination of surprising elements. The teeth are in fact computer mice, the eyes are washing machine doors and the ears are satellite dishes. The name of the sculpture, 'Wee', comes from the phrase Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment, and its weight, 3.3 tonnes, is the same as the weight of electrical equipment thrown away by an average person in a life time. The RSA hopes that the sculpture will encourage recycling by dramatically reminding us of the sheer quantity of products we throw away unnecessarily. Citizens of the European Union currently produce 6.5 million tonnes of electronic waste a year, most of which ends up in landfill sites or is incinerated. A mere 10% is recycled.

Schooldays – the happiest days of your life?

Send us your thoughts and win a new laptop!

When I was at primary school I really didn't enjoy school. Everyone said 'come on Jenny. These are the best days of your life!' I didn't believe them. I always left my homework until the last minute and I remember Mum. She got so angry with me. 'Sit down and do your homework NOW!' But I wanted to talk on the phone or play computer games with my friends. 'I said SIT DOWN!' It was the same thing every Sunday evening. I feel sorry for her now of course.

Then when I was eleven and went to secondary school, everything changed. And that was because of one teacher: Mrs Mann. She was our maths teacher. I didn't think I was good at maths but she showed me that I was. She was so interesting and funny and she was very young and attractive too I remember. She had long fair hair and wore really nice clothes. She was probably in her mid-twenties. We all enjoyed her lessons. She always had time for us. She was always in a good mood and she never shouted at us. Mum never had to tell me to do my homework after I met Mrs Mann! When I got home after school, I did my homework immediately because I wanted to do well.

In fact I enjoyed Mrs Mann's lessons so much that I decided to study maths at university. I know she was pleased. When I was a student I wrote to her every term and sometimes we met during the holidays. That was twenty years ago. And now I'm a maths lecturer at the university where I studied. I hope that my students enjoy studying with me as much as I enjoyed learning with Mrs Mann.

We recently asked our readers to tell us about their experiences growing up, whether as one of several siblings or as only children. (0) We were inundated with entries and will be publishing a selection over the next couple of weeks. Thank you all for sharing your childhood memories with us.

Only is lonely – or is it? by Sally MacFarlane

I was brought up as an only child, the daughter of two intellectual, emotionally absent parents who believed that children should be seen and not heard. On the surface perhaps not the best start in life, but there were many advantages to this rather isolated upbringing.

(1) _____ They were both successful writers who worked long hours and then often had to travel abroad to attend conferences and give talks. As a consequence I was left in the capable hands of an endless stream of nannies.

Once I started going to primary school, however, the focus of my world changed and I found that I enjoyed being challenged, learning new things every day. (2) _____ If I could show them the progress I was making, we had some point of contact. They weren't really interested in my social development, more my academic skills.

At first I was shy and introverted, although I think I probably came across as rather arrogant. It's just that I was not accustomed to spending so many hours every day in the company of others and I'd grown to depend on myself for my own entertainment. I spent hours creating stories for all my imaginary friends to star in.

(3) _____ How could you be lonely when you had all this?

Most of my friends had brothers and sisters and I could see that they sometimes felt sorry that I was often alone. I, on the other hand, felt sorry for them in a way as they had to compete with one another for attention and possessions. (4) _____

The years passed and I continued to do well at school. I passed all my exams and went on to university and strangely enough followed in my parents' footsteps. (5) _____ It is now, as an adult with children of my own, I look back and wish I'd had brothers and sisters.

- A I quickly realised too that this was the way to engage my parents.
- B I at least did not have to do that.
- C There is, however, one big difference and that is my family life.
- D Even when my parents were around, they weren't – if you know what I mean.
- E I had a room full of books as well and could happily spend all weekend in other worlds.
- F I don't think I really appreciated what I had at the time.

10 Read the email. Are the statements true (T), false (F) or not given (NG)?

Hi Anna

How are things? I hope you managed to get yourself a decent last-minute flight. I know how tired you must be after the house move, and a break somewhere out of the way is probably just what you need.

I can't believe that I was at home this time last week and now I'm on the other side of the world. It's been an amazing few days. Well, you of all people know how it is when you travel. I must say I've forgotten how many times I've had emails from you from some internet café or other! And now it's my turn. To be honest, I was a bit nervous at first as I found the idea of travelling on my own quite daunting but once I'd checked in and gone through security to the departure lounge I could feel the excitement rising. It was a long flight but, would you believe, I got an upgrade so ended up travelling in business class! How the other half lives. Beginner's luck I guess. There was plenty of room so I even managed to sleep for a while.

We landed in Seattle in the early evening and I felt quite overwhelmed by all the signs and security. You wouldn't think we all spoke the same language, but finally I was through, picked up my luggage and took the airport shuttle to my hotel. I'd taken your advice and booked accommodation for the first night. It was fine – clean and functional. I didn't really sleep very much at all due to jetlag and the usual noises you get in hotels so I got up early and headed into town.

There's something about cities that are built by the sea. Do you think it's the sense of space perhaps? You just feel you can breathe more easily. Anyway, I took the bus down town to the waterfront and spent the whole day breathing in all the sights and sounds of the bustling market. In fact, it was quite exhausting – sensory overload. And by the end of the day I was looking forward to the next stage of the journey especially as it had started drizzling and was quite chilly. Surprisingly, given I'm a Brit, I didn't have an umbrella with me!

Day Two and the ferry over to Orcas Island. had to take a bus to the ferry port and then it was a couple of hours on the ferry. Orcas is one of the few San Juan Islands that is inhabited. I'd heard about these islands from a friend of mine and had decided to head out there and do some island-hopping away from the bustle of the big city. Since getting off the mainland, I haven't made any firm plans at all, so will take each day as it comes and will write to you again when I have internet connection – it's quite difficult here to find places with decent reception.

Take care and write back soon.

Love,
Sam xx

School days are the happiest days of your lives

St Anthony's School is celebrating its centenary this year so we are inviting all of our former students to write in with memories of their time with us. We look forward to hearing what you have to say.

Philip

I vividly remember my first day at school. I walked through the main doors and felt so small. I'd been at a village school before starting at St Anthony's so it was quite a shock to the system. Everyone seemed so much older than me and everyone seemed to know what they were doing and where they were going. Whenever I start something new, I'm reminded of that awful sinking feeling. I don't suppose it'll ever go away.

Marianne

My favourite subject was English because I really liked our teacher. She was so passionate about literature so we all just got caught up in her enthusiasm. At the start of every lesson she would read us a short extract from whatever it was that she was reading at the time. She also encouraged us to write for ourselves and I can honestly say that I wouldn't be a teacher myself if it hadn't been for her influence and encouragement.

Luke

To be honest, I don't have happy memories of my time at the school. I was a very introverted child and had always found it hard to make friends. Everyone seemed so sporty and competitive and I just didn't fit in. Looking back, I wish I'd told my parents how unhappy I was instead of staying put. The one saving grace, as far as I'm concerned, was the library. Whenever we had a break I just went there and studied.

Graham

I'm not really academic so I don't see the point of learning all about physics and history and all that kind of stuff. From my point of view it would have been far better if we'd done a few vocational subjects something that's actually useful if you want to go out and get a job. I dropped out when I was 16 and got myself an apprenticeship with a local building company. I don't think the teachers were particularly interested in anyone who didn't want to go to university but I still see some of my classmates from time to time.

Kate

One of my best memories is our trip to Berlin. We'd been studying German for four years. There were fifteen of us so it was a good number. A couple of parents came along as well and we all stayed in a small hostel in the city centre. It was so good to be able to practise what we'd spent so long learning in the classroom. And amazingly people actually understood us!

Think carefully before you choose.

The world of work has changed so much over the past couple of decades that it can often be quite challenging to decide which career path to follow. (0) Some people are very lucky and have a vocation. They know exactly what they want to do and have always done so. For others, however, the choices can be far harder to make. When you consider that you might well be spending fifty years in the workplace, as the retirement age rises, you will realise just how important it is to spend some time thinking about what it is you really want to do.

Of course, we are not all lucky enough to have the ‘perfect’ job. How many people do you know who can honestly say they wake up every morning excited about the day ahead with all its demands and challenges?

(1) _____ It’s more a case of ‘well it’s almost the weekend’.

Most people would say that they just ‘fell’ into the line of work they’re doing. They knew someone who knew someone or they just happened to be in the right place at the right time. After that, there’s a natural progression. (2) _____

Increasingly, however, in this age of technology, people are choosing to work from home rather than going out to work. (3) _____ It is an environment which needs to function, the only difference being that there you are likely to be working on your own, which in itself can be problematic if isolation does not suit your temperament.

(4) _____ You need to have a clear division between home as a place to relax and home as a place to work, ideally with a separate office so that you can shut the door at the end of the working day. This existence is not for everyone and is something that should be considered very carefully.

It is hard to predict how working patterns will change over the next twenty years as unemployment levels rise, but I imagine that the workplace as we know it will disappear as more and more people find new ways to work. (5) _____ Only time will tell.

~~Some people are very lucky and have a vocation.~~

A One job leads to another and you acquire various skills along the way.

B Working from home means you have to be very disciplined and focused.

C Perhaps there will be a return to smaller communities becoming more self-sufficient.

D I for one, can’t think of anyone.

E And home is a ‘workplace’ in much the same way as the traditional workplace.

You only get one chance

0 One thing in common

Look on the Internet and you will find thousands of websites dedicated to extreme sports, from mountain boarding to barefoot waterskiing, sky surfing to white-water kayaking. Although these sports are all very different, they do all have one thing in common and that is a high level of inherent danger.

1 _____

Whether on land, water, or in the air, these sports involve speed, height, a high level of physical exertion and spectacular stunts. One of the most extreme of these extreme sports is base jumping. BASE stands for Buildings, Aerials, Spans (bridges) and Earth, so basically anything that is tall enough to allow someone to jump off. There are people risking life and limb all over the world and they been doing so since the 1990s when the sport really started to take off.

Dan 'the Man' Witchalls is Britain's premier base jumper, a veteran with ten years' experience. He is a roofer by profession, an appropriate line of work for someone addicted to heights. 'I can't drive past a new building or crane without thinking, maybe, maybe ...' he says. His business card shows him in his trademark jade-and-white jumpsuit, leaping from the Petronas Twin Towers in Kuala Lumpur. It reads: 'Extreme Roofing'.

3 _____ While for many sportsmen, base jumping is like an act of personal rebellion, to Witchalls it is not. He claims that he does it because it's fun. At his house there are two places dedicated to base: a room filled with photographs of his most impressive jumps with every building named and dated, and the room where he keeps his equipment.

4 _____ The room full of photos, while highlighting Witchalls' triumphs, also serves as a sad reminder of just how dangerous this sport can be. There are six orders of service from the funerals of jumpers he has known, including Angus 'Gus' Hutchison-Brown, a popular British jumper who died in Switzerland in 2009. Over 150 people have died over the years and the list of near-fatal injuries is quite horrific yet the sport goes on with people always looking for greater challenges.

5 _____ So, how do you go about becoming an officially-recognised base jumper? You can apply for an official number when you've carried out all four genres of jumps successfully (building, aerial, span and earth). At the moment about 1,400 base numbers have been allocated, but none to women. I wonder if this means anything?!

~~One thing in common~~

- A The signs of success
- B The derivation of BASE
- C The cost in human terms
- D Qualifications needed
- E A well-known expert?

Hi Marcelo

How are you? How are the children? I hope everything's going well and you've managed to take some time off. It's so hard when you work for yourself, isn't it?

You must have wondered what on earth had happened to me as I haven't been in touch for so long! We used to write to one another so regularly, didn't we? I guess life just gets in the way sometimes. So much has happened in the last few months that I don't know quite where to begin. I've wanted to write so often but thought it more sensible to wait until I was a little more settled.

The biggest news is that I finally left my job. I know, I know, you probably thought I'd stay there until I retired. In fact I think almost everyone I know was surprised when I told them I'd quit. I guess I was good at hiding the fact that I'd been very unhappy for quite a while. After I didn't get the promotion I'd applied for, I couldn't really muster up much enthusiasm. I didn't get on with my new boss who was a cold fish to put it mildly. It was very obvious that she would do anything she could to get to the top and I found myself getting more and more stressed. One day she accused me of not having done something she'd asked me to and I just saw red. Something snapped inside and I heard myself say 'That's it, I quit.' It was worth it just to see the look on her face! My immediate feelings were of elation and relief, and then of course reality kicked in and I started to wonder what on earth I'd done.

That was three months ago. And it triggered something within me. I started to look at my life and the things I wasn't happy about. I made lists – the things I wish I'd done versus the things I wanted to do. Simple! So simple that I wonder what on earth took me so long. As they say, the journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step.

And my first step was to do the travelling I never did when I was younger. There was so much pressure in those days to get a job, get on to the career ladder and settle down. Now that I'm older I can see that I was just doing what everyone else thought was the right thing to do and it never occurred to me to question whether it was the right thing for me.

I can't tell you how alive I feel now. Every day is an adventure. I'm meeting all kinds of interesting people and I'm not making any plans or following any schedule. Perhaps it's so exciting because it's still so new but I can tell you I feel years younger. I'm in Australia at the moment as I got a round-the-world ticket so who knows, I might just come to Argentina and knock on your door one of these days.

Look after yourself and write back soon.

Hi Hannah

I just had to write to you as soon as I got in. I've just had the most extravagant evening ever and I have a funny feeling you might have had something to do with it. You recommended The Green Duck to Paul, didn't you? He must have made a reservation ages ago as I know it's always booked up months in advance. And you've known all this time! I don't know how you managed to keep quiet when you heard me going on about how I thought Paul had forgotten our anniversary.

Of course I had no idea where we were going. Paul had just told me to dress up so I decided to treat myself to a new dress and I must confess it ended up being a bit of a spending spree as I also got some new shoes, a bag and some perfume. I just can't resist a bargain and the shoes were in the sale so I thought, why not. I know, I know, I'm meant to be saving up but ... well, you're just as bad!

Anyway, a taxi pulled up at 7 and at 7:30 we were standing outside the restaurant. A charming waiter showed us to our table and, once we were comfortable, he handed us a menu and explained the specials of the day. Each dish seemed more exotic than the last but finally, I went for a goat's cheese starter followed by duck with seasonal vegetables. As you know, Paul isn't particularly adventurous when it comes to food but he decided to go for things he'd never tried before – fish soup and steak tartare (far too rich for me).

I must say the restaurant is rather over-the-top. I would never say anything to Paul of course, because I know it must have cost a lot, but to be honest, I'd have been just as happy, if not more so, at the local Indian restaurant. I didn't feel I could really relax because the waiters were a little bit too attentive. As soon as you moved, they were there at the table asking if everything was all right.

Mind you, when they came along with the dessert menu, even though I was full I just couldn't resist. You know my weakness for chocolate! I had the most delicious chocolate mousse you could ever imagine – three kinds of chocolate with fresh raspberries.

I dread to think what the bill came to but I accepted graciously, as I know Paul wanted to spoil me. Perhaps next time he asks you, you could suggest something a little more affordable, and then I wouldn't feel so bad about having spent money on myself!

Hope to see you soon.

10 Read Mark's blog 'mumbling and musing'. Choose the correct answers.

I've been thinking about success a lot recently. I was at a party the other day, an old school friend of mine was celebrating his thirtieth birthday. I hadn't seen him for ages so I wondered why he'd invited me – could it be that he wanted to show off, boast about all that he had achieved (that's what the cynic in me thought)? He always was very ambitious and competitive at school. He was the student of whom teachers would say 'he's bound to go far'. So even at a young age he was marked out for success, a high-achiever.

I confess I was curious, so I accepted the invitation and went along to the party. And, yes, in material terms he has certainly succeeded. He lives in a huge house, drives a fast sports car and has surrounded himself with beautiful objects. But where was he? I honestly didn't recognise him. He looked at least ten years older than all of us, and seemed to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. Was that really James? He came over and shook my hand, slapped me on the back as if we were old buddies, but there was something in his behaviour that made me think he wasn't happy. It was sad to see and yet, it was clear that a lot of people there looked up to him because of his money. I suppose it's easy to buy friends like that, but I came away feeling quite upset, and as I say, it got me thinking about what success really means.

To my mind, success comes in many different packages. A successful person is someone who has achieved what they set out to do, be it climbing Mount Everest or raising balanced, happy children. In my opinion, it has nothing to do with how much money you make. I'm not denying that money is useful because obviously it is, but I don't think it should be a motivating factor in the work you decide to do. One of the most successful (and happiest) people I know is my neighbour Alison who works as a teaching assistant in a primary school. She helps children who have learning difficulties. She loves the children and they obviously adore her. She has a really good work-life balance and fills her free time with all kinds of hobbies. Every year she makes it her goal to learn a new skill. At the moment I think it's playing the guitar.

As Albert Einstein said: 'Try not to become a man of success. Rather become a man of value'. What do you think?

Mark was _____ about his friend's invitation.

- a sceptical b delighted c ecstatic

1 He remembers James as being _____.

- a easy-going b opinionated c single-minded

2 James's success has affected his _____.

3 Mark believes that James' friends respect him because of his _____.

- a achievements b good taste c money

4 Mark defines success as _____.

- a being a mountaineer b reaching targets c being a parent

5 Alison is successful in Mark's opinion because she _____.

- a teaches children b has a lot of hobbies c has a balanced, fulfilled life

10 Read the web forum on local crime. Answer the questions.

Pat

I went to the bus stop as usual this morning only to discover that all the glass had been smashed and there was graffiti all over the shelter. The local council had only just recently cleaned it all up. It's the sheer pointlessness of such acts that really annoys me. What do these kids hope to achieve? Do they really wreck things just because they're bored? That's what they say, at least, when they're asked.

Lynda

I think we need to take action ourselves if we want things to change. I'm a member of a local scheme which the police have set up, and we're looking for more people to join. Basically we just keep an eye on our neighbours, especially if they're elderly or on their own, and we report anything suspicious or unusual. There are regular meetings and updates by email and to be honest it doesn't take up much time at all. Everyone who participates has a sticker in their window so would-be burglars know that the residents are watchful.

Frank

Yes, I agree, we all need to take responsibility for our local environment but within reason. I mean, there's no point being a hero. There has been a spate of burglaries in our street over the last few weeks. The burglars strike during the day when most people are at work. They break in through the back of the houses. I suppose they must climb over the garden fence and get in that way. They go mainly for laptops and jewellery so they can get away quickly without drawing attention to themselves. Mind you, I heard a case recently where the thieves came along in broad daylight with a removal van and they totally emptied the house. No one thought to question them because it all looked so official. So, yes that's another good reason to keep an eye on the neighbours. If they'd all been friendly with one another, someone would have known what was going on.

Susie

There was a fire at the local school last week. It was on a Saturday so there wasn't anyone around. The police have been called in to see whether the fire was deliberate. They're appealing for witnesses but I think they already have a long list of suspects. It could have been any one of a number of people really, couldn't it? After all, there have been quite a few problems at the school over the last few months.

Mel

I know this isn't a local issue, but then again I suppose it might be. I discovered that quite a lot of money had been taken out of my bank account recently. It would appear that it was a case of identity fraud, so I've had to stop all my bank cards and credit cards. Luckily I discovered it before too much damage had been done, but I'm wondering how it could have happened. So, some advice for you all ... make sure you shred any papers which have your personal details on them before you throw them away. I can only think that someone must have been through my rubbish and found my name and bank details. It's given me quite a shock I can tell you.

Who believes a crime could have been avoided
if the neighbours had been friendlier?

- 1 Who has written about a case of arson? _____

Reading

10 Read the article. Complete the gaps (1–5) with the sentences (A–F).

There is one extra sentence.

The power of the mind

I've always been fascinated by the way people behave: how they think and how they communicate, from body language to speech. My shelves are stacked with books on every aspect of self-help and self-improvement. I've attended any number of workshops and seminars but I can honestly say that one of the best courses I've ever done was a course in NLP.

(0) NLP (Neuro Linguistic Programming) is an extraordinary tool, and one which I would recommend to everyone. Taking a course will improve your communication skills in every way, whether you are a salesperson wishing to improve your targets, or a teacher wishing to motivate your students.

There are many key suppositions that form the basis of NLP including the following:

The map is not the territory: our senses take in raw data from our environment and that data has absolutely no meaning other than the meaning we choose to give it. We generalise, delete and distort, analysing situations based on what we have been told or what we have experienced, which is why no two people will assess something in the same way. (1) _____

Every behaviour is useful in some context: no behaviour is wrong in itself. It is perhaps just not the most appropriate behaviour for the context. (2) _____

The person with the most flexibility and choices of behaviour will rule the system: in order to get different results, you need to keep doing different things. (3) _____

Clearly if you're not happy with the way things are, you need to change your behaviour.

If one human has done it, that means it's humanly possible: and if it is humanly possible, any human can learn to do it. This is my personal favourite as it reminds me that we so often give up, either because other people tell us that we're being silly, or because we're not focused enough. There are so many stories of people who wouldn't take 'no' for an answer. (4) _____

So, if you feel as though you need to make changes, I would heartily recommend a course in NLP. (5)

_____ You will be amazed at how quickly these changes occur if you are mindful of your thought processes and your behaviours.

~~NLP (Neuro Linguistic Programming is an extraordinary tool), and one which I would recommend to everyone.~~

A In fact, we receive about 2 million bits of sensory data at any one time and we process between 5 and 9 of those 2 million using our five senses.

B You will be given all the tools you need to improve every aspect of your life.

C They persevered despite a mountain of opposition and they achieved their goals.

D However, most of us are quite resistant to these changes.

E Anger, for example, is a very powerful force for change but it is clearly not appropriate to get angry for no good reason.

F As they say, if you always do what you've always done, you'll always get what you've always got.

5. Методические указания для обучающихся по освоению дисциплины (модуля)

5.1 Методические указания по организации самостоятельной работы обучающихся:

Приступая к изучению дисциплины, в первую очередь обучающимся необходимо ознакомиться содержанием рабочей программы дисциплины (РПД), которая определяет содержание, объем, а также порядок изучения и преподавания учебной дисциплины, ее раздела, части.

Для самостоятельной работы важное значение имеют разделы «Объем и содержание дисциплины», «Учебно-методическое и информационное обеспечение дисциплины» и «Материально-техническое обеспечение дисциплины, программное обеспечение, профессиональные базы данных и информационные справочные системы».

В разделе «Объем и содержание дисциплины» указываются все разделы и темы изучаемой дисциплины, а также виды занятий и планируемый объем в академических часах.

В разделе «Учебно-методическое и информационное обеспечение дисциплины» указана рекомендуемая основная и дополнительная литература.

В разделе «Материально-техническое обеспечение дисциплины, программное обеспечение, профессиональные базы данных и информационные справочные системы» содержится перечень профессиональных баз данных и информационных справочных систем, необходимых для освоения дисциплины.

5.2 Рекомендации обучающимся по работе с теоретическими материалами по дисциплине

При изучении и проработке теоретического материала необходимо:

- просмотреть еще раз презентацию лекции в системе MOODLe, повторить законспектированный на лекционном занятии материал и дополнить его с учетом рекомендованной дополнительной литературы;
- при самостоятельном изучении теоретической темы сделать конспект, используя рекомендованные в РПД источники, профессиональные базы данных и информационные справочные системы;
- ответить на вопросы для самостоятельной работы, по теме представленные в пункте 3.2 РПД.
- при подготовке к текущему контролю использовать материалы фонда оценочных средств (ФОС).

5.3 Рекомендации по работе с научной и учебной литературой

Работа с основной и дополнительной литературой является главной формой самостоятельной работы и необходима при подготовке к устному опросу на семинарских занятиях, к дебатам, тестированию, экзамену. Она включает проработку лекционного материала и рекомендованных источников и литературы по тематике лекций.

Конспект лекции должен содержать реферативную запись основных вопросов лекции, в том числе с опорой на размещенные в системе MOODLe презентации, основных источников и литературы по темам, выводы по каждому вопросу. Конспект может быть выполнен в рамках распечатки выдачи презентаций лекций или в отдельной тетради по предмету. Он должен быть аккуратным, хорошо читаемым, не содержать не относящуюся к теме информацию или рисунки.

Конспекты научной литературы при самостоятельной подготовке к занятиям должны содержать ответы на каждый поставленный в теме вопрос, иметь ссылку на источник информации с обязательным указанием автора, названия и года издания используемой научной литературы. Конспект может быть опорным (содержать лишь основные ключевые позиции), но при этом позволяющим дать полный ответ по вопросу, может быть подробным. Объем конспекта определяется самим студентом.

В процессе работы с основной и дополнительной литературой студент может:

- делать записи по ходу чтения в виде простого или развернутого плана (создавать перечень основных вопросов, рассмотренных в источнике);
- составлять тезисы (цитирование наиболее важных мест статьи или монографии, короткое изложение основных мыслей автора);

- готовить аннотации (краткое обобщение основных вопросов работы);
- создавать конспекты (развернутые тезисы).

5.4. Рекомендации по подготовке к отдельным заданиям текущего контроля

Собеседование предполагает организацию беседы преподавателя со студентами по вопросам практического занятия с целью более обстоятельного выявления их знаний по определенному разделу, теме, проблеме и т.п. Все члены группы могут участвовать в обсуждении, добавлять информацию, дискутировать, задавать вопросы и т.д.

Устный опрос может применяться в различных формах: фронтальный, индивидуальный, комбинированный. Основные качества устного ответа подлежащего оценке:

- правильность ответа по содержанию;
- полнота и глубина ответа;
- сознательность ответа;
- логика изложения материала;
- рациональность использованных приемов и способов решения поставленной учебной задачи;
- своевременность и эффективность использования наглядных пособий и технических средств при ответе;
- использование дополнительного материала;
- рациональность использования времени, отведенного на задание.

Устный опрос может сопровождаться презентацией, которая подготавливается по одному из вопросов практического занятия. При выступлении с презентацией необходимо обращать внимание на такие моменты как:

- содержание презентации: актуальность темы, полнота ее раскрытия, смысловое содержание, соответствие заявленной темы содержанию, соответствие методическим требованиям (цели, ссылки на ресурсы, соответствие содержания и литературы), практическая направленность, соответствие содержания заявленной форме, адекватность использования технических средств учебным задачам, последовательность и логичность презентуемого материала;
- оформление презентации: объем (оптимальное количество), дизайн (читаемость, наличие и соответствие графики и анимации, звуковое оформление, структурирование информации, соответствие заявленным требованиям), оригинальность оформления, эстетика, использование возможности программной среды, соответствие стандартам оформления;
- личностные качества: ораторские способности, соблюдение регламента, эмоциональность, умение ответить на вопросы, систематизированные, глубокие и полные знания по всем разделам программы;
- содержание выступления: логичность изложения материала, раскрытие темы, доступность изложения, эффективность применения средств ИКТ, способы и условия достижения результативности и эффективности для выполнения задач своей профессиональной или учебной деятельности, доказательность принимаемых решений, умение аргументировать свои заключения, выводы.

7. Материально-техническое обеспечение дисциплины, программное обеспечение, профессиональные базы данных и информационные справочные системы

Для проведения занятий по дисциплине необходимо следующее материально-техническое обеспечение: учебные аудитории для проведения занятий лекционного и семинарского типа, групповых и индивидуальных консультаций, текущего контроля и промежуточной аттестации, помещения для самостоятельной работы.

Учебные аудитории и помещения для самостоятельной работы укомплектованы специализированной мебелью и техническими средствами обучения, служащими для представления учебной информации большой аудитории.

Помещения для самостоятельной работы укомплектованы компьютерной техникой с возможностью подключения к сети "Интернет" и обеспечением доступа в электронную информационно-образовательную среду Университета.

Для проведения занятий лекционного типа используются наборы демонстрационного оборудования, обеспечивающие тематические иллюстрации (проектор, ноутбук, экран/ интерактивная доска).
